

Hyerin Seo

Ph.D. candidate
Michigan State University
Department of Political Science
230 South Kedzie Hall, East Lansing, MI 48823
seohyeri@msu.edu

EDUCATION

---

- Michigan State University (2019 – present)
  - Ph.D. candidate in political science
- Michigan State University (May 2020)
  - M.A. in political science
- Seoul National University, Seoul, Republic of Korea (February 2017)
  - M.A. in Political Science
- Seoul National University, Seoul, Republic of Korea (February 2014)
  - B.A. in Political Science and International Relations
  - B.A. in Economics (double-major)

Extra Education

- Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) (Summer 2022)

RESEARCH AREA

---

- Comparative Politics, Political Behavior, Political Communication, Nationalism, Everyday Nationalism, Public Opinion, Research Methods
- Major: Comparative Politics
- Minor: Research Methods

WORK IN PROGRESS

---

- “Everyday Nationalism in East Asia – Based on Their Out-group Hostility to Neighboring Countries” (dissertation project)
- “Everyday Nationalism Unleashed Online: Textual Evidence from South Korea During the 2022 World Cup Games” (under revision)

- “Sustainable Energy Transition: Beyond Material Analysis” with Annick Anctil and Christian Houle (under review)

PUBLICATIONS

---

- “Failure of the Muslim Brotherhood after 2011 Revolution in Egypt – Concerning the Ideational Factors of the Brotherhood Leading to Its Political Isolation.” 2017, M.A. Thesis.
- “An Analysis on the Authority of the GCC Based on the Network Theory.” The Journal of the Institute of the Middle East Studies, 2015, 34.1: 23-53

TEACHING

---

- PLS 202: Introduction to Data Analytics, Instructor (Spring 2024; Summer 2024; Fall 2025 (expected))
- Research Methods, Teaching Assistant for workshops, lab sessions, and introductory methods class in political science (Fall 2023 – Spring 2024)
- PLS 200: Introduction to Political Science by Prof. Erica Frantz, Teaching Assistant (Fall 2022; Fall 2021)
- ISS 318: Pandemics and Social Science by Prof. Erica Frantz, Teaching Assistant (Summer 2022)
- PLS 201: Introduction to Methods of Political Analysis by Prof. Andrew Kerner, Teaching Assistant (Spring 2022; Summer 2021)

GRANTS & CERTIFICATES

---

- William E. Rhode Fellowship (2024)
- Research Grant in Minority Politics (2024)
- Certificate in Computational Modeling, College of Engineering, Michigan State University (2023)
- Fulbright Graduate Study Award (2019 – present)
- Lecture & Research Scholarship, Seoul National University (Fall 2016)
- National Research Fellowship for Humanities (Spring 2015)
- Infrastructure Establishment Program for Basic Research (Spring 2014 – Spring 2015)

SKILLS

---

- Software: R, Python
- Language: Korean (native), English (professional fluency), Japanese (intermediate)

WORK EXPERIENCE

---

- Planning assistant, Olympic Broadcasting Services, Pyeongchang, Republic of Korea, headquartered in Madrid (September 2017 – March 2018)
- Intern, Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, Stockholm, Sweden (August 2015 – June 2016)
- Intern, East Asia Foundation, Seoul, Republic of Korea (January – June 2013)